

How do you know what you know?

Put all your firm's knowledge in one place. Easy to store, search and use.

Introducing Blueprint from Tiger Eye – the new Knowledge Management companion for iManage.

Blueprint is a brand new knowledge management solution from UK iManage Partner Tiger Eye which integrates seamlessly with iManage Work.

The software was conceptualised and designed following discussions with knowledge managers and IT directors across the legal sector, and the message was loud and clear: "Forget the bells and whistles that we don't want or ever use and instead give us a toolkit that enables us to work smarter with key best practice documents."

How can you maximise engagement with your knowledge strategy?

For firms who have already made a significant investment in iManage Work, what's really needed is a set of useful additions to help firms use what they already have, rather than an entirely new, expensive, and separate package.

Blueprint is designed with simplicity in mind, to provide an intuitive and quick user experience – how can you maximise participation and minimise the time spent accumulating firm wide knowledge? How do lawyers want to search and submit? How can 'un-chargeable' time spent on lengthy meetings discussing Knowledge be reduced, without impacting on the usefulness of resources or reducing the importance of key firm-wide wisdom?

Blueprint addresses all these questions, and will continue to develop with advice from users. As a community-led software concept, it will evolve and improve to meet the needs and expectations of an ever-changing legal landscape.

Key benefits

Users can search the knowledge database using a standard taxonomy, tags or full text search, and see all the iManage metadata, and the author's reason for submission in one easy view.

Staff can submit new iManage stored documents easily, and full toolkits are provided for knowledge administrators in the firm to be able to manage and maintain the system.

Users can 'Like' and 'Favourite' documents, which creates shortcuts for individual users, and gives the system administrator helpful information about which are the most interesting and useful documents in the system.

Simplicity means Blueprint can also be used on any compatible Android or Apple device with no training. The intuitive HTML5 browser-based interface can easily be customised with your own corporate branding to make Blueprint your own.

Blueprint is designed to be an affordable, subscription-based* solution and uses tiered price points based on the number of users. Contact us for a demo.

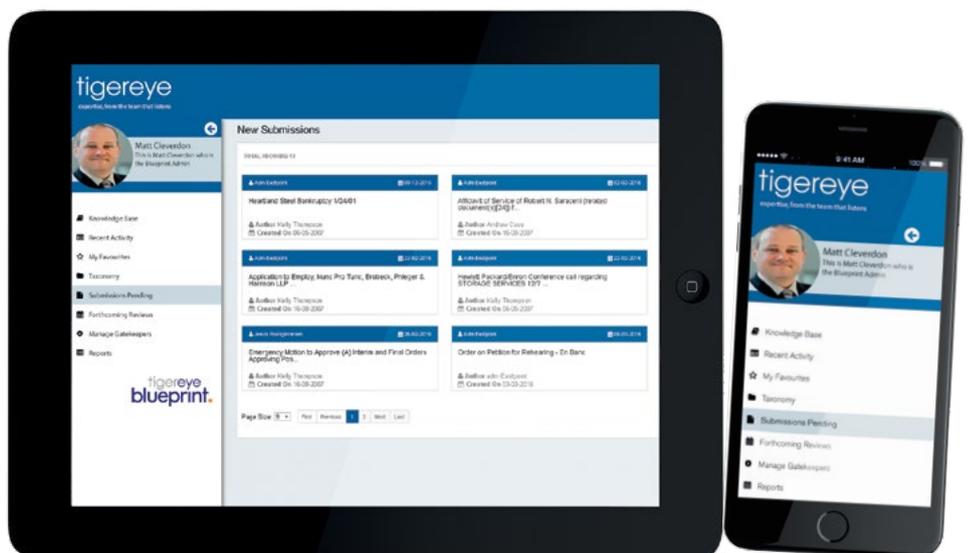

*Minimum subscription period of 1 year
